

CONNECT

The prospects are clear: we will live longer. The number of people aged 65 and up will increase over the next few decades. Society will change as a result, but how? Connectedness is a powerful tool rooted in human nature. By unfolding the nature of relationships and age-based transitions in life, we invite the reader to join us in an effort to design for connectedness. And to reframe the picture, rethink our options and reinvent how to Connect.
